WOUNDED KILLER CONFESSES TRIPLE MURDER

'Harwood is Assured Postmastership'-Cotton

BURKE FIGHTS SELECTION, IS REPORT

Former Register Editor Is Patronage Head, Declares Writer

M'ADOO 'DEAL' TOLD

County Democrat Leader 'Amused' At Assertion Of 'Horse Trading'

Frank Harwood is entitled to the Santa Ana postmastership and in all probability will get it.

This was the assurance given The Journal today by Hamilton H. Cotton, Orange county Democratic leader, over the telephone from Los Angeles.

Mr. Cotton said he made the statement after a talk with Senator William G. McAdoo yesterday. He did not say the senator had made up his mind but he added:

'Entitled to Job'

"I always have thought Frank Harwood was entitled to the job and still think so. The senator has taken no action as yet but he said yesterday he would get to it very soon."

Mr. Cotton's assurance came after a mild storm had broken out in Orange county following publication in a Los Angeles morning newspaper today of an assertion that the appointment was being held up by J. Frank Burke, a Republican and former publisher of the Santa Ana Register.

Mr. Burke, the newspaper said, was holding out for Paul Witmer. The newspaper article added Mr. Burke was the dispenser of Democratic patronage in Orange county and had been made so by reason of his support of Senator McAdoo in 1932. Charlie Brown, Redlands, a McAdoo lieutenant, placed a crown of authority upon Mr. Burke's head in return for his promise to support McAdoo, the newspaper asserted.

Cotton Is Amused

Mr. Cotton was amused at the statement and Mr. Burke denied the story in its entirety.

Mr. Burke told The Journal: "I never entered into a deal of that type when I was in my life. In fact I barely know Mr. Brown. I believe that I met him on one occasion. I understand that friends of one of the applicants for the office did go to Redlands and obtained the support of Mr. Brown. While I am interested in who gets the appointment as postmaster of Santa Ana I have no particular person in mind for the office. I cannot help what people say about (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

WOMEN SEEKING NEW 'RIGHTS'

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 26. (AP)—Feminists trained guns today for an opening battle in a campaign for a new amendment to the constitution of the United States—to guarantee women equal rights with men in industry and business.

The women, many of them one-time prominent "suffragettes," will hold a conference of the national woman's party here Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Helen Hunt West of Jacksonville, Fla., predicted 700 would attend.

A Million-Dollar Highball! That's County's Annual Drink

Editor's Note: This is the second of three articles by Roch Bradshaw dealing with the sales tax and liquor license fees as they affect Orange county. Yesterday's article showed how sales tax payments reflect an increase in business. Tomorrow's article will explain benefits accruing to Orange county from its sales tax and liquor license fee contributions to the state.

By ROCH BRADSHAW

One million dollars has always been considered a lot of money. A million-dollar business commands a huge amount of respect. A million dollars in taxes makes the property owner gasp.

How about a million dollars?

worth of whisky? A pretty big drink.

Orange county is considered fairly dry. But the best figures available, discounted considerably, indicate that Orange county swallows a million-dollar highball once a year.

This is just hard liquor. It takes no account of the wines and beers that may find their way down the throats of Orange county's residents.

This subject has never been pursued very far locally from a statistical standpoint. As a matter of fact, no one, not even the state board of equalization, which is supposed to keep tabs on drinks, can tell you exactly how much liquor is consumed here in a year. The board of equalization can tell you to a penny how much is paid in liquor taxes and license fees; but when it comes to translating that into pints, quarts and gallons, it is another matter, as will be shown later.

But the state board of equalization has furnished the best data available on this subject. "Based on a prorata, according to population, the consumption of distilled spirits in Orange county would aggregate approximately 170,000 gallons per year."

That was the answer of T. H. Mufford, tax administrator for the board, to a question propounded by The Journal. It was relayed through W. C. Shay, ad-

LEAKING SHIP MENACES 30

Vessel Springs Leak Near Santa Barbara Island Today

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 26. (AP)—The whaler California, with 30 men aboard, radioed today it was "holding its own" after having sprung a serious leak off Santa Barbara Island.

The coast guard cutter Itasca has reached the side of the 953-ton wood boat, and is standing by, said coast guard headquarters.

Vessel Leaking

The California is at anchor 40 miles from the Southern California coast near the whaling grounds where it has operated for a number of years.

"Vessel leaking badly. All pumps going full force but water gaining," said the first distress message from the California, intercepted by the coast guard shortly after 6 a. m. today.

Can Save Ship

Later advice to the home here of F. D. Dedrick, one of the owners of the California, indicated, he said, that the pumps are going better and that it would not be necessary to abandon ship.

The cause of the leak was not specified in the messages.

BAN ON UTILITY ACTS ASKED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—The North American company, one of the largest public utility holding concerns, asked the District of Columbia supreme court today to prevent the government from enforcing the holding company act.

The plea conceded that the North American was a holding company under the terms of the act and therefore required to register. But, it adds, such registration "is the means provided by the act" under which North American and its subsidiaries would be brought under the jurisdiction of the securities commission. The commission then, it was claimed, "would be enabled to dismember and destroy the business" of North American and "regulate, control and reorganize such business pending plaintiff's ultimate dismemberment and destruction."

EX-ETHIOPIAN RULER DIES IN PRISON

Lij Yasu, Held In Gold Chains, Succumbs To Lingering Illness

ITALIANS EVACUATE

Natives Ready To Take Back Cities Captured By Invading Army

By JAMES A. MILLS

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 26.—Lij Yasu, deposed emperor of Ethiopia long reputed to be a prisoner in golden chains, is dead, it was announced today.

The grandson of former Emperor Menelik, a cousin of the present Emperor Haile Selassie, died in exile in a villa prison specially constructed for him at Tiara Mulata, near Harar, where he had every comfort.

Selassie In Mourning

Haile Selassie, who became regent and heir to the throne to share the rule with Queen Zauditu, daughter of Menelik, now dead, when Lij Yasu was deposed by the tribal chiefs in 1916, went into mourning for his predecessor.

Lij Yasu, who was 38 years old, succumbed to a lingering illness. He was born in February, 1897.

Lij Yasu ruled Ethiopia for only three years before going into exile and becoming subject of many a strange and fantastic tale.

Prevented Kidnaping

The favorite legend had the one-time monarch held in golden chains at Haile Selassie's Addis Ababa palace to prevent the Italians, now invading Ethiopia, from kidnaping him.

Other reports had the possibility of an Italian bombing of Harar prompting the emperor to remove Lij Yasu to a secret hiding place far in the hinterlands.

Champagne and Cards

It was generally conceded that at Haile Selassie's orders, the deposed emperor was allowed to live in luxury, even to such comforts and diversions as champagne and playing cards.

Over all the legends prevailed (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

NEW COLLUSION TOLD TO F.D.R.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—A third case of alleged "collusive" bidding by four American steel companies has been submitted to President Roosevelt by Secretary Ickes.

The PWA administrator said today he had taken action with "prima facie evidence of collusion in bids for steel on a PWA-financed dock at Miami, Fla."

Already, the trade commission is investigating such accusations in connection with bids on the ocean terminal at Morehead City, N. C., and the tri-borough bridge in New York City. The same four companies, Ickes said, were involved in all three cases—Inland, Carnegie, Jones and Laughlin, and Kalman (a Bethlehem subsidiary).

MAN BLOWN STREET WORK FROM SHED FUNDS HERE

Fullerton Rancher Is South Main Extension To Be Started In Week, Says Official

Carl Talcott, 30, of 635 North Pomona avenue, Fullerton, suffered severe burns on the body early this morning when fumes from a gasoline pump on the Sunny Hills ranch north of Fullerton ignited and blew him bodily from a small pump shed.

The victim was saved from more severe burns through instant action on the part of Grant Phillips, ranch executive, who saw the blast and tore burning clothing from his body, according to Fire Chief Davis of Fullerton.

Fumes from the gasoline pump apparently were ignited by sparks from an electric motor, as Mr. Talcott opened a door on the shed, according to the fire chief. The resultant explosion threw the victim several feet and Mr. Phillips and workmen succeeded in tearing off burning clothing before fatal burns were suffered.

Mr. Talcott was rushed to the Fullerton General hospital, where physicians reported at noon that although he was seriously burned, he probably would survive.

The Fullerton fire department answered a call to the blaze and extinguished the fire before stored tanks of gasoline on the property caught fire.

Ruth Bryan Owen is Most Interesting Woman, Poet Blanding, On Visit, Says

By VIRGINIA SMITH

"What kind of women do I like? Oh, just women."

That was the nonchalant answer of Don Blanding, whose vagabond poetry probably makes him the most romantic male for American women today, and who was in Santa Ana today to deliver lectures.

"I suppose the most interesting woman I have ever met is Ruth Bryan Owen," said Mr. Blanding. "She's alive. She's electric. She has more vitality than any other woman I have ever known. We clicked on sight and were drawn into an hour's dynamic conversation. I'd mention a subject, she'd brighten and the sparks begin to fall. She's a remarkable person."

The poet was reflective on mention of the woman he didn't marry, immortalized in his poetry, and said she was probably a bit "psychic."

SEARCH FOR BODIES

Officials Expect Others May Be Dead; Murderer Falls Into Coma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 26. (AP)—Investigation of the fate of nine missing persons focused today upon the condition of Chester Comer, 25, itinerant oil field worker, gravely wounded in a gun fight before his capture yesterday.

Comer, a bullet in his brain, gasped a barely understandable admission of partial guilt before lapsing into a coma.

E. Smith Hester, McClain county attorney, said Comer confessed he killed Ray Evans, prominent Shawnee attorney; L. A. Simpson, Piedmont farmer, and Simpson's son, Warren, 14, and hid their bodies.

Dumped the Bodies

"I did away with three . . . dumped their bodies in a pile under a pipeline . . . Allen . . . near Ada," Hester quoted Comer.

Comer's first and second wives were added to the list of missing. Federal agents probed the possibility Comer may have killed four Illinois tourists, George M. Lorus and Albert A. Heberer and their wives, in New Mexico several months ago.

CHINESE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT MOVES TO CHECK AUTONOMY

PROGRAM OF REFORMS IS DRAFTED

Five-Point Plan Drawn By Committee In Nanking Meet

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press) SHANGHAI, Nov. 26.—The Chinese central government moved to check the North China autonomy movement today by adoption of a sweeping five-point program of administrative reforms.

Responsible Japanese quarters said the central government's executive committee, meeting at Nanking, decided:

1. To establish a Peiping office of the executive body, with War Minister Ho Ying-Chin as director.
2. To abolish the Peiping branch of the military council.
3. To transfer the council's business to a military affairs commission of which Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek would be chairman.
4. To appoint Gen. Sung Cheh-Yuan, North China overlord reputedly selected by Japan to head an autonomous nation in that area, to the newly created post of pacification commissioner for Hopeh and Chahar provinces.
5. To order dismissal and arrest of Yin Ju-Keng, Chinese administrator of the demilitarized zone and self-appointed chairman of the newly formed East Hopeh autonomous state.

The Japanese military had given the central government the alternative, in effect, of undertaking its own North China reforms or seeing the autonomy movement cut loose five northern provinces, with their population of 95,000,000.

An alleged plot to enlist the first cavalry regiment, quartered in the heart of Rio de Janeiro, in a Communist rebellion against the government was thwarted as reports from authentic sources showed a rebellion death list of from 40 to 60 men.

Lieut. Lauro Fontoura, detailed to the training of reserve officers, was arrested before dawn, charged with attempting to incite a revolt of the cavalry unit.

Officials said he had made an effort to bring the crack mounted corps into line with the soldiers who are fighting in Northeast Brazil against the government.

With a "state of siege" proclaimed throughout the nation, the government was pushing all available military power into the area where the rebels had made their gains.

MORE ABOUT P. O. JOB

Calls Article Wrong

"Mr. Brown could make no such promise as that referred to in the newspaper article," said Mr. Cotton. "The article is all wrong. Mr. Harwood always has and still is entitled to the job and I think he will get it."

Last Wednesday night the Democratic central committee indorsed Mr. Harwood for the postmaster, a very fat plum. The indorsement following the resignation of Terry E. Stephenson, who left the office to become county treasurer, was unanimous with the exception of one hold-out, Mrs. Barbara Brooks of Costa Mesa, who nominated W. Maxwell Burke, brother of the former publisher, for the post. W. Maxwell Burke, until 1934, was a Republican.

Only Two Applied

When the committee indorsed Mr. Harwood its members announced that confirmation of the appointment was to be expected within a few days and that Mr. Harwood probably would take charge immediately and not wait until Jan. 26, next year, when Mr. Stephenson's term was scheduled to expire.

There were but two formal applications before the committee. These were the applications of Jules Markel and Mr. Harwood. On motion of Mr. Markel the Harwood indorsement was made unanimous.

Witmer Wanted Job

Mr. Witmer, known politically here as "one of Burke's boys," at one time expressed himself as anxious for the appointment as postmaster. Later he was given the land office job and appeared to be satisfied.

Joseph Timmons, the political writer who made the charge that Democratic patronage in Orange county is being "dished out" by a Republican, named Mr. Burke as the Republican and Mr. Witmer as the favored son for the post-office job.

"Horse Trade" Told

To Charlie Brown, Democratic leader of Redlands, according to Mr. Timmons, goes credit for the "horse trade" that in 1932 made Mr. Burke the head man as far

ECONOMIC FEAR THREATENS BUSINESS, SAYS SPEAKER

Millions of men and women in the United States are suffering from economic shell shock as a result of the depression. They are standing in an economic crazy house, looking at twisted mirrors and seeking distorted visions. In other words they are harried by fears and complexes but are afraid to admit it. But the thing for business to do is to banish its fears, take the initiative, stick up its chin and take charge of things. If it does that, the fears will fade and the obstacles will vanish.

This was the message brought to the chamber of commerce member meeting in the Green Cat cafe at noon Monday by Bruce Findlay, director of the public relations department of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce. Mr. Findlay was introduced by J. C. Horton at a session presided over by Frank Henderson.

Two of the major automobile concerns, said Mr. Findlay, have taken advantage of the fact that their competitors were paralyzed by fear, have forged ahead and made good.

One of the major problems which business must face and solve, Mr. Findlay indicated, is the problem of millions of people growing accustomed to living without working.

"This principle is getting a hold so deep that unless we take the initiative, we'll all go down," said speaker.

Mr. Findlay said emphatically that he was not making a political talk but he warned that "if one Santa Claus doesn't give them what they want, they'll get another Santa Claus."

Referring to the slogan of "getting the rich," Mr. Findlay said that if all the income of everyone earning more than $5000 a year were commandeered, it would run the government just 28 weeks.

"We're only shouldering a burden that's going to break us," he warned.

A. L. HONORS DR. ROWLAND At Organizing Caucus In 1919

Dr. Elliott H. Rowland of Santa Ana received an unusual honor Monday in the form of a certificate attesting his presence at a caucus in Paris, France, at which the first plans for formation of the American Legion were made.

Dr. Rowland, who was a captain in the dental corps of the 128th machine gun battalion or "suicide squad" of the 35th division, was one of the approximately 200 men who met at Paris March 15, 16 and 17, 1919, and laid plans for formation of the American Legion. Senator Clark of Missouri, known as "Young Champ" Clark, was caucus chairman.

The certificate was sent to Dr. Rowland by Frank N. Belgrano, jr., national commander of the Legion, and was attested by Frank E. Samuel, national adjutant. The document bears a copy of a resolution adopted at the national convention of the Legion at St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 26, expressing thanks to those men who attended the Paris caucus and a later one at St. Louis, for their work in promoting the Legion.

Dr. Rowland enlisted at Kansas City, Mo., and served with the American forces for 16 months in France. Practically all of this service was on the front line, and included the Argonne and Verdun sectors.

AAA ALLOTS SUGAR BEET ACREAGE PLACENTIA'S SCOUTS WIN MEET HERE

Allotment of 1936 sugar beet acreage for California was made Monday by the Agricultural Adjustment administration. Associated Press dispatches said, but the extent to which Orange county will participate in this allocation remained in doubt today.

On Friday night the Orange County Sugar Beet Growers association met at the farm bureau hall here and many of the growers expressed doubt as to whether they will raise any beets next year because of dissatisfaction with the contract offered by the sugar companies.

Make No Statement

Officials of the Holly Sugar company here declined yesterday to make any statement regarding the situation, saying that while there are two sides to the question, they do not care to enter into a public controversy.

According to Walter Pollard, secretary of the association, the growers since 1932 have been operating under contracts whereby they receive 45 per cent of the net profit made by the sugar companies, in return for their product. Many of the growers are unable to make money on this basis, he said, although under a former contract, on which they received 50 per cent, they were able to do so.

Allotment Told

Orange county's sugar beet acreage has been from 800 to 1000 acres.

The AAA allotment gives California a flat acreage in contrast to other beet producing states, where the acreage was apportioned by factory districts. Idaho's allotment was 69,237 acres, while Washington was allotted 4405 acres. Total acreage for the nation was placed at 975,585, approximately the same as for this year.

Mozart, when a child genius, once was locked up by Adelaide, sister of the unlucky Louis XVI of France, until he proved his ability by writing a concerto for violin. She thought Leopold Mozart, the boy's father, was playing a trick.

as Democratic patronage in Orange county is concerned.

Mr. Timmons said that in 1932 Charlie Brown of Redlands told Burke that if he would support Roosevelt and McAdoo he could control Orange county federal patronage. Burke did and presumably the agreement still holds. Senator McAdoo at least has not accepted the decision of the Orange county central committee.

Mr. Timmons was in Santa Ana yesterday.

"McAdoo Doesn't Dare"

One member of the central committee who declined to permit the use of his name, said today "Senator McAdoo would not dare to name Witmer to the office in the face of the unanimous indorsement of Mr. Harwood."

Practically all members of the committee joined in declaring that drastic action and political reprisal will follow should Senator McAdoo fail to accept the decision of the committee.

FOUR MAY BE CALLED IN OIL PROBE

Superior N. E. West will be asked to repeat to the grand jury his charges that the Huntington Beach tidelands oil situation is "another Teapot Dome scandal."

Rumors that the grand jury would be asked to investigate legislation and attempted legislation for development of the state-owned tidelands pool were verified today. It was definitely declared that a group of Huntington Beach property owners are preparing to appear before the inquisitorial body either tomorrow or Monday.

Four to Be Called

According to information obtained in the beach city today, Mr. West, Senator Nelson T. Edwards and Assemblymen Ted Craig and James Utt will be called to testify as to their knowledge of the situation.

During controversy over the tidelands oil bill which would have permitted whistpool drilling into the state pool, ugly charges of bribery were hurled. Supervisor West charged that several legislators had admitted they were controlled by "big business."

Reported Conversation

Senator Edwards reported being informed of a conversation in which proponents of a bill to permit island drilling named a large sum of money which they said would be necessary to put over the measure.

The spokesman for the Huntington Beach group now engaged in preparing a formal demand for thorough sifting of the charges said today that the residents of Huntington Beach are going to demand of the grand jury that Supervisor West be called upon to repeat his charges of graft, in connection with attempts to pass the two tidelands measures; give definite facts concerning the charges, and at the same time tell of his connection with the matter.

Urged Island Drilling

Mr. West, at the time of the hearings in Sacramento, advocated the island drilling scheme suggested by the Gilmore Oil Company and made several trips to Sacramento in behalf of the proposition.

Shortly after the hearings had been completed and the island drilling plan had failed, Supervisor West hurled his "Teapot Dome" charges and was met by a demand from Senator Edwards to prove his statements.

SEEK CLUES IN GIRL'S MURDER

FRESNO, Nov. 26. (P)—E. O. Heinrich, Berkeley handwriting and identification expert, went painstakingly over the W. H. Stammer home in suburban Fresno today seeking additional clues in the fiendish murder of the attorney's 14-year-old daughter, Mary Louise.

Before completing this task on top of the evidence already collected by officers, the criminologist studied the house, the position of the girl, the window from which it is believed someone outside fired a .22 caliber bullet into her head, and footprints and fingerprints believed to be those of the fiend responsible.

An autopsy confirmed the previous report that a bullet and not a clubbing, as first believed, was responsible for the girl's injury and subsequent death.

SCHOOL TO BE IMPROVED

The Santa Ana board of education last night made known its intention of improving the Edison school building as soon as possible. The first step was to authorize an application for a Works Progress administration project to increase the safety of the auditorium.

In view of this situation a delegation from the Edison school district pledged its cooperation in the campaign for $323,000 in bonds with which to replace two high school structures and erect an auditorium at the Julia Lathrop Junior High school.

The delegation appearing before the board last night expressed fear that the tile roof on the Edison auditorium may fall. The WPA application which Business Manager George Newcom was authorized to file was for demolition of the auditorium to the extent of making it safe. The board suggested investigation to see what safety results might be obtained by lessening the weight of the roof through replacing the tile with other material.

Louis F. Davis, 316 East Edinger street, headed Edison delegation. The sum of $26,000 in the elementary building fund has been earmarked for the Edison school and the board seemed willing also to use $29,600 in the high school fund for the Edison school. After the auditorium situation is taken care of, the next move will be to improve classrooms, some of which are in deplorable shape, according to Mr. Davis.

SOLARIUM FOR REDUCING OPENS IN SANTA ANA

Installation of a new scientific solarium at the Institute of Physio-Therapy, 207 North Main street, was announced today by Jules E. Renfer, head of the institution. Equipment for the solarium was secured through the West Coast Surgical Supply company, Santa Ana, and embodied all the latest scientific features.

The solarium will be under personal direction of Harold Murrell McCullough, well known here as a graduate masseur and orthopraxy specialist as well as a scientific weight correctionist, having studied for several years at the Battle Creek institute in Michigan. Mr. McCullough is a native of Berne, Switzerland, and a graduate of the Orthopedic college in Philadelphia. Following his graduation there he became professor of mechano-therapy in the same institution where he served for several years.

A feature of the solarium, said Mr. McCullough, is that it reduces weight without resorting to starvation diets and back-breaking exercises.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

IN THE past few weeks San Clemente has become a forest of whiskers.

Beards and Van Dykes and mustaches and sideburns can be seen sprouting in all directions—yes, we mean all directions—as some of 'em are quite wild, and go every which-way.

It's all in preparation for the '49ers dance and Spanish fiesta they're planning for the week-end there. If the affairs themselves are as good as the preparations, it's going to be one good time!

We investigated a report that the police force wasn't growing any whiskers—it was wrong. We saw Chief Thomas Murphy, jr., and he had sideburns. Other members, we heard, are likewise decorated. Floyd Cowger and Desert Des Camps, two marketeers, have what experts call two of the finest crops in town. O. J. Madison, local plumber, has taken time off, we heard, to cultivate a most luxuriant and handsome display.

Mayor A. T. Smith, himself, has a mustache. It was hard to see, yesterday, due to his striking scenery, which included Spanish trousers, sombrero and a brilliant shirt. The mayor was setting a good example for his subjects.

CITY CLERK Bill Holmes has grown a mustache and is, he claims, all ready for the fiesta and dance. Eddie Sax, banker, is said to have cheated on the boys. He went to a barber and had his beard trimmed and fixed until his Van Dyke is the envy of all males of the community. Jock Macadam, we heard, also had a wonderful beard, but complications set in, and he had to shave 'em off.

"Spike" Jimenez and a bunch of the boys were running around yesterday looking more like cowboys than cowboys themselves do. "Spike", we were told, is in charge of the big rodeo which is planned as part of the fiesta.

The streets are decorated in the business district and the hand of welcome is already out, according to the mayor. We saw him with the key to the city yesterday and he was offering it to all sorts of people, so things must be all ready for their good time!

THE TOWN almost had a lynching party yesterday, too. Some of the rodeo boosters wanted to practice a bit, seemed like, and the only victim they could find was Judge Fred S. Warner. The judge was handcuffed by the chief of police and hauled under the strongest tree in the vicinity for the ceremony.

With the rest of the police force officiating, the crowd was getting ready to haul the judge up into the tree, and we were getting ready to run, plenty, when it was discovered that they were just taking a picture for publicity. Judge Warner wasn't even worried.

Except when the chief neglected to remove the handcuffs. Every one had visions of the jurist eating his supper with his hands tied together, but the chief finally relented and released His Honor.

NOTES TO YOU: O. K. Maxwell, at Capistrano, still has a dog for sale, cheap. In fact, he confided yesterday, he'd even give the beast away. We'd be glad to recommend her to anyone who wants a nice, frisky animal who's adept at catching flies. In fact, she's one of the best flycatchers we've ever seen. And she's white, mostly, with a few varicolored spots scattered here and there in a most pleasing colorscheme. She has only one fault—she eats, three times a day, and her adopted master is getting tired of feeding her. . . . Take a drive, some time, and count the new houses being built in or near Laguna Beach. You'll be surprised. . . . Lots of 'em are these newfangled ones which're mostly cream-colored, with yellow shutters and are pleasing to look upon. . . . If David Prenter, down at Dana Point, could just turn on a sunset like we saw last night every time he has a prospective customer for a new house, he'd make the sale every time. We can't describe it, except to say that the water was red and the clouds were pinkish and fluffy-looking, like that confection we got at carnivals when we were kids.

VALENCIA HIGH 'ROUNDUP' IS SLATED TOMORROW

PLACENTIA.—Students of Valencia High school will participate in the annual "Roundup" of the school, scheduled at the El Rodeo Riding club north of Placentia tomorrow afternoon. Principal John B. Crossley announced today.

Investigating Committee Reports On Findings At Night Meeting

COSTA MESA.—Costa Mesa will not incorporate. At least, all plans toward incorporation will be dropped at the present time. That decision was reached at a meeting of the Costa Mesa chamber of commerce held last night in the Lions' Den here.

President Harold Grauel, after all reports were given by a special committee on their investigation regarding incorporation, announced that he believed that from reports that residents of the district were not ready for incorporation.

W. C. Spencer, civic worker, who has given of his time and money to promote a better and bigger community, visited several incorporated communities. He declared that it is a bad policy to depend upon fines from speeders for revenue and that it is not good ethics to arrest drivers for unimportant traffic violations and suggested that the community might get by by forming a sanitary district.

After visiting various small incorporated cities and studying statistics, Mrs. Reuben Day said that on a basis of one and one-half square miles with a population of 2000 and an assessed valuation of $500,000, an expenditure of $3470 per year would be sufficient for city offices.

S. B. Vinson, third member on the committee, had no report other than to say that from all reports residents were not ready to incorporate.

After talks by R. C. Carlton and Judge Deal against the speeding problem in Costa Mesa, it was decided by vote to ask Supervisor N. E. West to use the influence of his office in having the speeding stopped.

Dr. C. G. Huston, Costa Mesa, told of plans of the Coast association to sponsor the annual Christmas lighting program and urged participation by the community. The group voted funds to furnish prizes for awards in the contest. The Christmas meeting of the association will be held Dec. 17 in the clubhouse here, instead of at Seal Beach, Dr. Huston reported.

Coast L-i-n-e-s

More about seals: One of the riddles of the universe went unsolved when the Laguna Humane society protested to certain fishermen who were reported to be shooting seals in these waters. They claimed it was not humane to shoot these innocent beasts. The fishermen, however, came right back with the pertinent remark that neither was it humane for the seals to eat up so many fish. So what are you going to do about it? Believe Darwin? Or take sides?

Residents living near Bird Rocks claim that it is the holiday boating parties who are responsible for the increasing number of seals that are being shot. They report that being shot people aboard these pleasure boats have often been seen pelting away at the seals with high-powered rifles, and that many of the bullets ricochet off the water or rocks and wound dangerously close to their heads. And this usually happens on a Sunday when the cliffs are apt to be lined with cars.

It is against the law to shoot seals in the first place, and in the second place it's dangerous for people ashore, so in the third place this situation might be something for the crew of the "Broadbill" to look into.

Justice C. C. Cravath suggests that all firearms be banned on pleasure craft, and that captains taking out fishing parties be warned to enforce the law in this respect.

Police Chief Abe Johnson, who says all the kids when another animal washes ashore, has reduced his responsibility down to an exact science. "I've got 'em all figured," he explains confidently. "I look 'em over and say—that's a two-dollar or a 10-dollar seal, depending on whether it's on good digging sand or wedged into the rocks near a house where you can't blow it up. Now you take this last one," he went on obligingly, "that was a 10-dollar bugger, because it had to be towed back out to sea and dynamited. The boys who do that work earn their money, and don't forget it."

The chief went on to tell about an 80-foot—well, anyway, a 40-foot whale, that went aground near Crystal Cove. That one cost $25, and was worth every cent of it, he said. Bones from that old hulk were picked up off the beach for atmospheric decorations in many a "rock garden" around here. Sun-bleached to the color of clean chalk, they lend a beachy air to these sandy landscapes. Like steer skulls in desert gardens.

There's a pleasanter side to the debris that the tides wash in to shore. It's driftwood. Following one of those ambitious sou'westers that whips the surface of the ocean into spraying whitecaps and lashes endless series of big waves against the cliffs, there's always to be found good pickings for firewood seekers.

These storms usually last two or three days. Very often considerable damage is done to prop-

ORANGE BUSINESS GROUP MEETS

ORANGE.—The Business and Professional Women's club met in the American Legion hall last night for a 6:30 o'clock dinner.

The president, Mrs. Florence Donigan, introduced Mrs. Iola Myracle, Mrs. Mercedes Richardson, Miss Helen Gilgoly, Mrs. J. W. Powell and Jean Cole, daughter of Mrs. Alice Cole, visitors. Miss Florence Boose and Miss Mildred Watson were welcomed as new members.

A dinner, planned by the Associated Service clubs, was announced for some time in January. Miss Phyllis Stuckey and Miss Madeline Edwards were in charge of games. Prizes were awarded to Miss Nell Crist, Mrs. Myracle, Miss Helen Gilgoly, Mrs. Josephine Shell, Jean Cole and Mrs. Amy Palmer.

erty along the waterfront, and swollen rivers wash down trees and wreckage of all kinds into the ocean.

When the clouds break up and the sunlight gets through to deliver a patchy warmth to all this confusion, that's the unspoken signal for all industrious driftwood-seekers to appear on the beach with as many old gunny sacks as the cellar will provide. The old hands at this game know where the good pickings are to be found, and there they go first.

Some wise gents bring saws and sawmats, and together they chew their way through cumbersome timbers that are occasionally tossed like toothpicks onto the shore and it's fine fun for good cleaners and plump philosophers. Then there's the art of picking pieces. The early birds get the cream of the crop; in other words, sticks of the right length to fit the fireplace at home. Also there is a knack in selecting well-seasoned pieces that will burn with blue, yellow and purple flames.

Tip-toeing away from this tender scene, we arrive by force at the main objective of these expeditions. Come one, come all, driftwood is absolutely free for the foraging.

Such is the riddle of the universe: The good and the bad are often cast ashore on the crest of the same wave.

GARDEN GROVE.—Joining for a union Thanksgiving service at the First Methodist church at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow will be churches of Garden Grove as well as those in Wintersburg, Westminster, Midway City and Alamitos, the group known as the Western Orange county branch.

The Rev. Charles T. Moore, pastor of the Alamitos Friends church, will give the Thanksgiving sermon. Special music will be furnished by the choir of the host church and by groups from the Foursquare Gospel and Alamitos churches.

Decorations will center around a miniature duplication of the original Mayflower.

COSTA MESA.—A grand total of $22,548 will be spent on roads in the Costa Mesa area this year, Supervisor N. E. West told residents at a meeting in the Lions Den here last night.

The supervisor had been criticized by residents, who asked aid in repairing muddy alleys and streets in the community. He said that already $5538 has been spent on maintenance of roads in the area, $9283 has been spent on repair work, projects totalling $2840 are being carried out at present and $4546 is yet to be expended in the district.

Supervisor West told of reduction of the county road tax in past years and predicted that the tax will be eliminated in the district next year. Lighting district taxes will also be reduced, he reported.

Residents asked an explanation of paving of a street upon which they said no residents lived, while other thoroughfares were not repaired. The speaker promised to investigate the matter.

Extension of south Main street from Santa Ana will start in 10 days or two two weeks, the supervisor told the audience.

He concluded his talk by asking residents to itemize their needs and to bring them to him for action.

WESTMINSTER.—The Westminster branch of the county library has the following list of books for juveniles, it has been announced:

Dr. Leo Edelstein performed the delicate operation yesterday and today he said that Miss Dixon had a fine chance for recovery. She will be brought to her home in about two weeks, he added.

PLACENTIA.—Plans for a football banquet for members of the Valencia High school varsity were made at a meeting of residents of the school district, held last night in the school auditorium here, with date of the affair tentatively set for Dec. 9.

The meeting was called by the elementary and high school Parent-Teacher councils. Members present voted to resume meetings of the Pioneer Men's brotherhood, formed last year, and to sponsor the banquet, to which all residents of the community will be invited. The affair will be held in the American Legion hall.

The first meeting of the brotherhood group was set for Dec. 3. At that time a district band will be formed and plans made for a community chorus, it was decided.

The meeting followed a Hi-Y father and son banquet, held at the school under direction of Arch Raitt, north Orange county Y. M. C. A. secretary. Arthur Corey, assistant county school superintendent, was speaker after the banquet.

The football banquet committee includes Warren M. Bradford, chairman; Dean Hasson, the Rev. D. J. Brigham and Coach Clarence E. Bishop.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS AND OBSERVATIONS

WHILE WESTERN Junior College conference officials today are attempting to solve what they think is a predicament because three members of the loop have used ineligible players, the Eastern half of the fraternity is still sitting by a sly grin. The sometimes dubbed "Orange Empire" division knows its entry will whip the daylight out of any team in the other neighborhood.

That goes, supporters declare, no matter what. Should Riverside get the flag or should Chaffey upset them and claim the title because of defeats over Santa Ana, Citrus and the Bengals, the cry is thus same.

Tomorrow the terrible tangle that has Western division officials in a quandary will be settled. It seems that Los Angeles, Glendale and Long Beach used ineligible players. The Men Who Say Things don't know what to say. Can they rule out all the games in which these teams used ringers? In all fairness that is what should be done—but indications are that the moguls will just pooh-pooh the whole thing.

Commissioner A. W. McDermoth has ordered that if Chaffey beats Riverside on Turkey day a special meeting must be called to make plans for breaking the four-way deadlock that will ensue among Riverside, Santa Ana, Chaffey and Citrus.

However, most fans feel it is only a forlorn hope that the Dons will have another crack at the title. A victory for Riverside over Chaffey is almost a cinch, they mean.

Meanwhile, the supporters are looking forward to the time when East meets West—and the West gets a pasting.

STANFORD'S ROSE BOWL BID PREDICTED AT 7

WAY BACK last Aug. 7, the Journal files reveal, your correspondent tagged Stanford as the team slated to get the Rose Bowl bid. Said we at that time: "Stanford appears to be the standard team in the country (maybe we were a bit rash), and will play in the Rose Bowl. However, the Indians will lose one game, or come dangerously close to it, to one Pacific Coast conference member. They will win New Year's day." We shall see if the last half of our prognosticating is as correct as the first.

We dare not point with too much pride at our effort of this date, however, for we said: "U. C. L. A. will be the greatest disappointment of any team on the coast." Whew! Well, the Uclans aren't past Idaho yet—so.

COOK LUCKY TO WIN GRID GUSSING SPREE

COACH BILL COOK can thank his lucky rain clouds for his victory in The Journal's grid guessing contest. Winner by a mere 26 points over Al Rebohn, his young assistant, Cook got a break when rain forced the cancelling of the Santa Ana-Oceanside contest. Freed from picking this game, Cook picked as an alternate Whittier to beat Redlands 20-13. Redlands won, 7-0. (Had the Oceanside game been played, this prediction would have been used in calculating Cook's guess and he would have suffered a net loss of about 64 points.) Rebohn couldn't have lost that many digits in the Oceanside guess and would have surged to the front.

Prep Coaches to Have Tough Task

By PAUL WRIGHT

Hercules would strain his back lifting all the football material Santa Ana High school will lose by graduation.

After the heavy toll is taken in February and June, it will be a difficult task indeed for Coaches W. W. (Bill) Foote and Reece Greene to construct an eleven that will do in 1936 what the Saints did in 1935.

Six victories in nine engagements—that is the successful record—that is the successful record.

SZABO UPSET BY DAVIS IN MAT BOUT

Hairy Grappler Renders Hustlin' Hungarian's Knee Useless

By FRANK ROGERS
Journal Sports Editor

Sending a house full of enemies home dejected but hoping for a rematch, "Weeping Willie" Davis, hairy mat giant, last night handed Sandor Szabo his first local rasing defeat when the Hustlin' Hungarian gave up the ghost after his right knee had taken a thorough working over from the big fellow.

The unscheduled upset of the popular and spectacular grappler climaxed a torrid main event and was a veritable life saver for Davis. Each had won one fall, Davis making Szabo give in with a fierce knee lock that rendered Szabo's leg useless and forced him to forfeit the battle.

"Soulplex" Wins Fall
Those who had trekked to the bone bending bazar in the hope of seeing Davis given a big beating had their wishes partly fulfilled. Using a colorful "hold" called the "soulplex" as a mighty weapon, Szabo tossed Davis from post to post to take the first fall.

As the hirsute one attempted a bear hug Szabo grabbed his arms and tossed him backward—sending him sliding and bumping across the canvas like a pumpkin rolling down a tin roof. After the process was repeated several times—with increasing vigor—Davis subsided almost gladly. Szabo fans left for home convinced their hero can and some day will beat the well-known far out of "that dirty so-and-so Davis."

Ever popular Casey Columbo provided most of the fireworks by slamming Terrible Turk Mehmet Youssef all over the resin to win the semi-windup. A series of elbow smashes, followed by a body slam executed after Columbo had hauled his adversary back into the ring whence he had crawled for safety, did the trick in 12 mins., 27 secs. Youssef asked for his beating by making varied unclean passes at Casey.

Steinborn, however, provided a flurry of excitement by nearly laying the masked one's face bare. Concentrated work on Mr. Marvel's hood left it torn and stretched but still waving.

Nelson Davis, baby brother of Wee Willie, made a good showing for about 20 minutes with ugly old "Preacher" Hogue until he suddenly faded and lost the curtain raiser under a feeble body slam in 23 mins., 34 secs.

BATH TO FACE AL ROGERS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26. (AP)—Hank Bath, Ft. Morgan, Colo., boxer who in two local appearances failed to live up to the advance billings of his manager, Jack Kearns, goes to the post tonight at the Olympic against Alfred (Butch) Rogers, Honolulu heavyweight.

Rogers, a wild-swinging fighter, was knocked out two weeks ago in seven rounds by Hank Hankinson of Akron, O., after winning his first five local appearances by knockouts. On the basis of this record he was established as a slight favorite over Bath. The bout is scheduled for 10 rounds.

BRADDOCK TO BEAT LOUIS, SAYS CHAMP

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26. (AP)—James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion of the world, said today, "I expect to fight Louis in September and I expect to beat him."

"I think it has all been arranged," added the New Jersey fighter, "and the fight will take place in Madison Square Garden. I do not know the details, but the Century club may stage it with the Garden providing the premises."

Has It Figured

The calm-spoken titleholder, here on a country-wide exhibition tour, said he had figured out a strategy of attack to cope with the Brown Bomber.

"There's only one man in the world for me to fight in defense of my championship," Braddock explained. "That man is Joe Louis."

"I'll box him, and I will punch him—perhaps punch him harder than he expects."

James J. stretched his 215-pound, six-foot three-inch frame in an easy chair.

"You know, I have quite a sock myself."

Planned His Fight
"Louis is not much of a body puncher and his best blow is a left hook to the head. True, things go wrong in fights. I planned my one with Baer far in advance and was able to carry out this plan. If Louis proves different from what I expect, I will have to be resourceful enough to cope with him."

Braddock said his lean years, financially and physically, before his meteoric rise from relief roles to the title, were mainly because he had not attained his full physical development.

"I weighed only 180 pounds, was forced to fight bigger men and broke my hands a number of times. Then I put on about 15 pounds and it seemed to double my strength and endurance."

He said he would train down to 195 pounds from his present 215 figure for his next fight.

CARNERA LICKS FORD SMITH

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26. (AP) Ponderous Primo Carnera held a comeback with each of his huge paws today and looked around for bigger game to tackle in his return trip up the heavyweight fistic ladder.

He took his second comeback barrier in stride last night, outpointing Ford Smith, Montana cowboy, in 10 rounds before 6500 fans at the Arena.

Smith, whose 209 pounds were 53½ less than the 267½ of Carnera, threatened only in the first three rounds. After that Carnera's weight and heavy left jab had the Missoula boy in trouble until the tenth.

Mountain Player Only Four Yards From Record

BOULDER, Colo., Nov. 26. (AP) Bill (Kayo) Lam, dancing band leader who plays quarterback for Colorado university is within four swift strides of setting a modern ground-gaining record in collegiate football.

Lam, if he can pick up a net of four yards in Colorado university's final game with Denver university at Denver on Thanksgiving day, will surpass the record of 1015 yards gained from scrimmage set by Beattie Feathers of Tennessee.

He gained 121 yards in 21 runs from scrimmage against Wyoming university last Saturday to boost his total in that department to 1012 yards.

INJURIES MAY WEAKEN DON BACKFIELD

Injured ankles on two of their backfield spark-plugs, Oliver McCarter and Walt Hickman, will decrease the effectiveness of Santa Ana's Dons in their Eastern conference football finale with Fullerton here Thursday, 2:15 p. m.

McCarter, who has been wrecked since the San Bernardino game, Nov. 1, aggravated his ailing left ankle again in drill yesterday, and will not be up to par in the Thanksgiving day classic. Hickman is recovering from torn ligaments in his right ankle, and the slightest twist forces him to jump with pain. He claims he will be ready, but the coaching staff is doubtful.

Can Earn Letters

The quantity of letters awarded by Coaches Bill Cook and Al Rebohn will depend upon showings against Fullerton, they said. At least 10 members of the squad can join the list of lettermen with a first-class performance. Approximately 20 Dons already have earned numerals.

Cook has made an annual custom of starting his deserving sophomores in the traditional game, but there are few to pick from this fall. Thirty members of his squad of 39 are underclassmen.

The Don skippers can field an all-sophomore backfield of Major Anderson, quarterback; Hickman and Ralph Comstock, halves, and Dick Moore, fullback, but Freshman Al Lamb, stocky blond, probably will sub for the ailing Hickman.

Spray, Craft Return

Center Bob Spray and Running Guard Art Craft have returned to the lineup following injuries. Spray is adept at intercepting passes, and will tighten Santa Ana's defense. Craft is an important factor in the Don running attack.

Cook's brilliant aerial combination, Quarterback Joe Herbert to End Greshner, is in fine condition.

LOCAL TENNIS HOPES FADE IN LEAGUE

Prospects for a Citrus Belt league championship for Santa Ana's crack tennis aggregation faded today with a report that Redlands dusted off Colton, 11-0, Sunday. Pomona outclassed Riverside, 8-3, in another match, while Santa Ana brushed aside San Bernardino Arrowhead, 10-1.

Santa Ana is leading Redlands, 41 points to 38, but Redlands has six postponed matches to play with Riverside. Victory in only three of these matches, which were halted by rain two Sundays ago, will tie Santa Ana, and thereby award Redlands the title since the Islanders hold a 6-5 decision over Capt. John Cress' locals.

Riverside's Bob Vanderzyl is slated to replace Pomona's Art Flum in the No. 1 position in Citrus Belt league singles. He trimmed Flum in straight sets, 6-4, 7-5, Sunday, and early in season conquered Santa Ana's premier player, Lewis Wetherell, in three sets, 3-6, 6-4, 8-6. Wetherell also has defeated the top-ranking Flum, 6-2, 6-3.

Basketball hopefuls at Santa Ana High school and Junior college were to swing into the thick of their training grind today.

Long Beach's Woodrow Wilson Bruins of the Bay league were to come to Andrews gym for a workout with Coach H. Greene's Saints late this afternoon. Like in the recent scrimmage with Hollywood, no score will be kept, Coach Greene said.

Tonight on the same floor Coach Alvin Rebohn will conduct a two-hour inter-squad drill for his Dons, whose next competition will be furnished again by Coach Vic Baden's Concordians in the Walker memorial gym at Orange Monday night. The junior collegians are anxious to pay the Concordians for a 33-23 defeat suffered by Santa Ana here last week. Rebohn also has arranged a practice session with Coach Bill Cole's Fullerton Saints late this afternoon, and will at Austin next Tuesday, and will battle either the Shell Oilers or Woolen Mills of the Commercial league Wednesday, he said.

The Saint first string will not be selected until the close of football season, Dec. 7. The Dons are now using a combination of Tom Lacy, Clarence Riggs, forwards; Bob Browning, center; John Jensen, and Len Lockhart, guards, but this lineup, too, will be altered when some of the Don graders report.

PUBLIC URGES WINNER BE INVITED

Visitors Of Texas Tech And S. M. U. Clash Are Favored On Coast

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN

PASADENA, Nov. 26. (AP)—Rose Bowl's annual football dilemma—the problem of selecting a suitable opponent for the 21st inter-sectional game here New Year's day—confronted Stanford today.

Tiny Thornhill's team was awarded the New Year's game yesterday.

While officials of the West's representative scanned the grid horizon for the team of their choice, a pool of the paying public suggested the Pacific Coast conference's selection of yesterday take the bull by the horns and name the winner of the Texas Christian-Southern Methodist tussle at Fort Worth Saturday.

Announcement Here
Rose Bowl officials said today they expected Al Masters, Stanford's graduate manager, here late this week and advance indications were that the guests of the opposition would be answered no later than Saturday night. Masters' announcement—which has been his privilege to make for the last two seasons—probably will be made here as is the custom.

There were reports, lacking confirmation, that Stanford would make another attempt to get Princeton. This was in the face of a rebuff from the unbeaten eastern team in 1933 when Columbia was named and insisted undergraduate comment this fall that the Tigers were not interested in the Tournament of Roses game which they termed a "commercial classic."

N. Y. U. May Be It

The general opinion prevailed that should New York University defeat Fordham Thanksgiving Day, it would be asked, in event of the Violets joining the ranks of the defeated, Stanford, pursuing its announced plan of attempting to get an undefeated opponent, was expected to turn to the winner of the big game in Texas.

One hitch marred the chances of either T. C. U. or S. M. U. getting the call. That was the fact that each team plays another contest on Dec. 7 and Stanford hardly can hold off that long. Texas Christian plays Santa Clara on the coast to wind up its schedule and certainly a possible defeat at the hands of the Broncos would lend no color to the Rose Bowl picture. Southern Methodist plays Texas A. and M. as its Dec. 7 opponent.

A poll conducted by a Southern California newspaper, bringing in votes from more than a hundred towns in California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah, favored the selection of the victorious Texas eleven, with New York U. and Notre beaten once and tied once, running neck and neck for second place.

GILBERT HEADS COMMITTEE TO CAMPAIGN FOR SCHOOL BONDS

PUBLIC ASKED TO INSPECT BUILDINGS

Lions Club To Join In Drive For Votes At Dec. 12 Election

Guy J. Gilbert, well known Santa Ana insurance man, will head the citizens committee leading the campaign on behalf of the proposed $323,000 bond issue for rehabilitation of the high school plant. The election will be held Dec. 12.

News of Mr. Gilbert's appointment came last night at a meeting of the school board where he was requested to serve by the Parent-Teachers association. A citizens' sponsor committee has been named by Mr. Gilbert to assist him.

The sponsors committee consists of J. B. Tucker, Ellis Diehl, Robert L. Brown, E. M. Sundquist, Sam Hurwitz, Mrs. John Mills, Alex Brownridge, P. C. Dietler, Carl Mock, Jules Markel, the Rev. Dr. George A. Warner, J. F. Hedrick, Homer Chaney and Calvin N. Gilbert.

Lions to Help
Frank Henderson, school superintendent, said also that the Lions club will head a drive to get the voters to the polls. Getting out the vote is usually a Lions club project.

The board last night approved a plan for setting aside a day on which the public may inspect the two buildings at the high school plant which will be replaced if the bonds carry. In making this plan known the board said that while the buildings will be open for inspection and guides will be provided to show the public through the structures, those entering will do so at their own risk.

Dec. 4 Inspection Date
The buildings have been vacated and the students are being housed in tents because of the fear that another earthquake such as the one of March 10, 1933 might be followed by loss of life. In view of this fact the board said it does not wish to be in the position of inviting the public to enter the building, but explains that Dec. 4 has been set aside as a day on which guides will be provided to escort through the buildings those who wish to inspect them at their own risk.

Notices have been sent to election inspectors and judges, and poll books for each of the 14 precincts have been corrected, Mr. Henderson said.

Suggests Mass Meetings
Dr. Margaret Baker, member of the board, suggested that mass meetings be held to inform the public of the need for rebuilding the high school structures and erecting an auditorium at the Julia Lathrop Junior High school. These projects are included in the program to be voted on Dec. 12. The sum of $223,000 has been set up

Hair Falls With Temperatures, Says Doctor

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (AP)—The man with the bald spot may be a victim of the weather.

The patch of missing hair may literally have been blown off by a storm, Dr. Frederick R. Schmidt, Chicago, said today.

Alopecia areata—the words the doctor uses when he means sharply defined bald spots—is one of a number of skin diseases which Dr. Schmidt found may be caused by sudden meteorological changes.

Reporting on a study of the relation between weather and health in the November issue of Archives of Dermatology and Syphilology, Dr. Schmidt cited two of 31 such cases of baldness.

The hair fell with the temperatures in each case, he said.

Democrats Refuse To Take Poll Result In U. S. Seriously

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Republicans were quick today to hail the result of the poll on "legislative trends" conducted by the chamber of commerce of the United States, but Democrats declined to take it seriously.

The referendum, participated in by 883 local chambers, disclosed an overwhelming opposition to what were called trends in recent New Deal measures.

Representative Reece (R., Tenn.), said that "not only business people but the people generally are realizing there must be a stop to the encroachments of the government into the field of private business."

But Senator O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.), retorted it was "perfectly obvious" that the questions were "loaded to obtain a particular answer."

The four questions dealt with states' rights, federal government spending, government competition with private enterprise, and delegation of legislative functions to the executive.

QUITS AFTER 26 YEARS OF TEACHING

Miss Elizabeth Wyant Resigns H. S. Post Because of Health

Miss Elizabeth Wyant of the high school English department, one of the best known teachers in Santa Ana, tendered her resignation at last night's meeting of the board of education. Her step was taken on the advice of her oculist and because of her health.

The board accepted the resignation with regret. A note from Lynn H. Crawford, high school principal, said that moving of high school classes into tents had made the situation more difficult for Miss Wyant.

The resignation, which came before the board in a letter, brought an end to 26 years of service by Miss Wyant in Santa Ana High school. Mr. Crawford said today that she has been an outstanding teacher who always had the interest of the students at heart.

For many years she had been faculty advisor on the high school year book, The Ariel, which several times won national honors. She also has been faculty advisor for the honor society.

Mr. Crawford's letter to the board last night said a rearrangement would make it possible to continue the rest of the semester without making another appointment.

LAVAL YIELDS AND OUSTS VET UNIT

Leftists Demands Are Met In Move To Halt Franc Devaluation

PARIS, Nov. 26. (AP)—Premier Pierre Laval today yielded to the demands of the Leftists for the disbanding of Nationalist forces, such as the war veterans' Croix de Feu, to save the franc and defend his cabinet against threat of overthrow.

The cabinet agreed on a proposal, now pending in parliament, to appeal to the chamber of deputies "patriotism" for immediate discussion of Laval's financial measures.

This discussion means Laval will demand an immediate vote of confidence for his decree laws which are intended to defend the franc against speculation and the budget uncertainty now causing a heavy outflow of gold, with danger of eventual devaluation of the franc.

The premier will ask the chamber to take up the battle against political troops after he disposes of the interpellation of his financial policy.

The cabinet's decision to support a proposal to disband "seditious leagues" was, without naming the Croix de Feu, taken in the face of a warning from friends of Col. Francois de la Roche, its leader, that such action would lead to a "brutal shock and perhaps civil war."

Tots have a way of getting in draughts, and sitting on cold floors when engrossed in play. Mothers who realize this should make up a supply of warm little frocks with matching bloomers in wool, wool mixture or heavy cotton as double protection against the cold. Doesn't this kiddie make a pretty picture, in her brief, puffed-sleeve frock of warm washable challis? A kick in the cute, pleated skirt as high as the knees, for her bloomers match the frock. It's an easy-to-make pattern, and the sew chart's such a help! Complete, diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9548 may be ordered only in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 4 requires 2 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric and 1/2 yard contrasting.

Send today for our pattern book for winter! See how easily and thrifflily you can make attractive clothes for yourself and family, and what lovely yet simple gifts you can make for Christmas.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women.

Do you think a girl who has neither liking nor aptitude for physical education should be compelled to take it in school?

Mrs. Arthur Wade: Fundamentally, I suppose every girl should have a certain amount of physical education, but I've known some instances when girls have had physical education who shouldn't have.

Mrs. Charles Swanner: No, because I think probably that girl would have other interests in other things. A girl should take what really interests her. Often, the interest lies in horseback riding, which is not generally classes as physical education.

MATT RAYMONDS ARE PAID HONOR ON GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Raymond, 2035 N. Broadway, were feted on occasion of their golden wedding day with an anniversary dinner given Sunday in the Doris Kathryn tearoom by their family. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond, who have lived in Santa Ana for the past three years, spent most of their married life in Minnesota, where Mr. Raymond was a building contractor in Sleepy Eye, historic city. He and Mary Ann McRae were married in New Ulm, Minn., Nov. 24, and lived in the state until 1928 when they came to California.

Three of their five children were unable to be present on the anniversary, two sons, Harry Raymond of Downey and Dr. A. C. Raymond of Abilene, Texas, and a daughter, Mrs. G. W. Christensen of Oelwein, Iowa.

Miss Alice Raymond of the home and another daughter, Mrs. William Megaw, with Mr. Megaw and their daughter, of Alhambra, were present. Other guests were the honored couple's niece, Mrs. O. H. Tracy and son, Jim, of Portland, Ore., and a grand nephew, Robert Jewett, student of Cal Tech.

SANTA ANA GIRL IS MARRIED QUIETLY IN MEXICO RITES

Miss Dorothy Hankey, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Miller, Santa Ana Ebell matron, was married to Kenneth Smith of Phoenix, Ariz., in a quiet civil ceremony last Saturday at La Juana, Mexico.

The bride, a graduate of Long Beach High school and a former student in the Orange County Business institute, wore a smart gray suit with black accessories and a black rosebud corsage.

The couple will live in Los Angeles. Mr. Smith is connected with the Better Housing bureau there.

LEWIS F. MOULTONS COMING AND GOING IN HOLIDAY SEASON

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Moulton, El Toro, and their daughter, Louise, Pomona collegeeans, are anticipating a busy holiday season.

The Moultons just returned this week from a trip to Imperial valley. They plan to spend the latter part of the week in San Francisco, where they will be guests of Mrs. and Mr. Irving Moulton.

They will return to the Southland in time for Louise to resume her studies on the Claremont campus.

Golden Day Is Near For Couple

A half-century ago in Cedar Falls, Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trefren became man and wife. Saturday, the two will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at their home, 315 South Shelton street.

Mrs. Ray King of El Modena, and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Trefren of Inglewood are making the arrangements for the party, which will include a dinner at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Trefren first came to Orange county 42 years ago. They established a residence at Laguna Beach, and for several years, Mr. Trefren operated a stage service between Laguna and El Toro.

"I've covered enough miles between Laguna and El Toro to equal six trips across the continent," Mr. Trefren said in recalling the old days when he operated the stage service. "When I first started in, I didn't know what an automobile looked like. The stages were three seater wagons, not regular stage coaches like you see in the movies, and I used to make two trips a day—regular. I was operating a freight line between El Toro and Laguna at the same time, and sometimes I had to stay up all night, driving freighters back and forth between the two towns."

"Santa Ana wasn't much of a place in those days. Just a few stores, a postoffice and some dwellings. We used to come into town here every once in a while, and automobiles came in. I joined up with Joseph Yoch at Laguna Beach, and we operated a stage service to Santa Ana. We stayed in that business for quite a spell, and my wife and I moved here in 1918. We've been living here ever since."

NEW MEMBERS ARE HONORED AT SANTA ANA O. E. S.

Honors went to new members of the year at the reception of Santa Ana chapter, O. E. S., last night in the Masonic temple, following chapter meeting.

Each new woman member was given a piece of pottery and each man, a framed picture.

They sat with the retiring officers, who presided for the last time last night, at a long table decorated in the harvest motif. Autumn leaves and fruits were used to center the table. Those admitted to the year were Naomi Boutwell, Ethel Christian, Yvonne Goodwin, Alice Gorton, Isabel Garthe, Clara Rousseau, Catherine Rousseau, Juanita Cozad, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Lollie McCracken and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest E. White.

Welcome and congratulations were extended by the worthy patron, Mr. S. Hunter, with response from Mr. Holmes.

A decorated birthday cake was presented Mr. and Mrs. Hunter in observance of their anniversaries this month.

Preceding the program in the dining room, an entertainment had been given under direction of Mr. Hunter, Ralph Frisbee's "Ole Hawaiians" played and Mrs. M. E. Getting gave two readings, "When the Children Grew Up" and "Husbands."

The Newport Union High school drama class gave a one-act play with Betty Doyle, Ina Low, Richard Briggs, Lyle Van de Walker and "Boots" Dakin in the cast.

Dr. Cassius Paul, worthy patron of Hermosa chapter, ten past matrons and four past patrons of Santa Ana chapter, and Mrs. Lucy Lascher, past matron of Knoxville, Tenn., were escorted to the east.

Appreciation for assistance during the past year was voiced by both the presiding matron and patron. Installation of new officers will be made Dec. 9.

Committees last night for the tables were Mrs. Max Growdy, Mrs. Harry Roberts, Mrs. Glenn Lyman, Mrs. Ora Jennings and Mrs. Sue Henry and for refreshments, Mrs. and Mrs. George Shippe, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith, Mrs. Doug Petty, Mrs. Al Adrian and Mrs. B. E. Dawson.

THANKSGIVING MOTIF IS USED IN SECTION LUNCHEON

Gracefully arranged Thanksgiving fruits and gourds appointed the table in the section room of Ebell clubhouse for the luncheon shared by members of Ebell speech arts section before the general club meeting yesterday.

Mrs. M. M. Holmes, Mrs. W. P. Read and Miss Ida May were hostesses. Mrs. Franklin West conducted the business session, in which the next meeting date was set for Dec. 9 before the general club meeting.

In the program hour the 18 members present gave one-minute speeches. Mrs. George Raymer spoke for 10 minutes on Andrew Carnegie, whose centennial was observed yesterday.

CHOOSE TWO SANTA ANANNES AS PLEDGES TO CAMPUS CLUB

Two Santa Ana women students at Pomona college, Miss Hope Titus, 1028 Patton street, and Chestnut street, were honored this week when they were pledged to the Kallimachos, honorary library club on the Claremont campus.

Miss Titus, a sophomore, and Miss Wolfe, a junior, were initiated in a special dinner meeting.

Home Should Not Be Place of Drudgery for Mother and Her Children

By MARY STODDARD

A home is a congenial place, according to the dictionary.

For thousands of women, however, a home may be a place where she turns out work which she would be doing in a factory were it not for the tendency to deprive married women, who have been wage earners, of their positions.

Her home may be a few rooms where children, after school, assist in the labor, prepare their own meals, and come to regard their mother a toiling automaton.

Four Stars Appear In New Togs

HOLLYWOOD—Joan Bennett,

back from a vacation in New York, appears at the Walter Wanger studio to discuss her part in "Big Brown Eyes," new film. Her dark navy blue suit is strictly tailored and her soft felt hat, mannish blouse of crepe de chine, as well as her suede bag and pumps, are of duobunnet in its smartest shade.

This combination of colors, plus the smartness of the outfit itself, chalk up 100 per cent for Joan in fallish chic.

Sylvia Sydney, starring in "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," production soon to be released through Paramount, has found it necessary to make a slight adjustment in her winter wardrobe. The reason is a charming new convertible roadster of yellow with a fine green line. And Sylvia has wisely decided that a few yellow accessories, worn with a brown tweed suit, might be very becoming to the entire situation.

Wendy Barrie, Paramount player in "Millions in the Air," has a smart new brown bag, inspired by the good old-fashioned horseshoe. Of smooth brown calfskin, the bag is shaped like a horseshoe and is studded around one side with square nailheads of dull gold. Superstitious young Hollywood players are anxious to imitate this fad in time for the racing season, which has a style value to every girl in Hollywood.

One of Marlene Dietrich's costumes for "Desire" is a suit of blue fabric which can be used as a splendid example for girls who wish to stress economy in their wardrobes. For, beside the straight short center-pleated skirt which matches the tailored jacket, there is a duplicate skirt in white. Very suitable for resort wear, right now, and a good point to check for next spring and summer.

'BEANO' ENTERTAINS I. T. U. AUXILIARY AT MEETING

There was "beano" to amuse the International Typographical Union auxiliary at its social meeting last night at the home of Mrs. J. E. Swanger, 2429 Heliotrope drive.

Mrs. William Fields, Mrs. F. E. Stilwell and Mrs. J. H. Patison were co-hostesses.

Prizes in the game went to Mrs. Carl Fisher, Mrs. Warren Brakman, Mrs. Neil Adams and Mrs. William Lawrence.

When the salad and dessert courses were served tiny scarecrow men leaning on turkeys made of lima beans were favors, carrying out the theme of the game. Baskets of chrysanthemums were used throughout to decorate the house.

Toward the close of the program, Hosmar's Hawaiians gave a group of island selections and played throughout the refreshment courses.

Present besides the hostesses were Mesdames E. R. Kimmel Joe Randall, G. F. Cattle, F. L. Berkland, Carl Fisher, William Lawrence, N. J. Daschner, J. W. Parkinson, S. F. Palmer, T. E. Williams, Warren Brakeman, Charles Clayton, C. C. Thrasher, C. A. Rousseau, G. L. Helms, Clyde Calhoun, V. C. Shidler, O. S. Waters, G. J. Hosmar, Neil Adams, George Duke, Mable Sherwood, E. W. Bates, Miss Margaret Fields, Miss Catherine Rousseau, Mrs. J. A. Matthews of South Gate and Mrs. R. A. Hawks of Anaheim, guests.

Anniversary of Meeting Is Wedding Day

Yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, in the Holy Family Catholic church, Orange, Miss Mary Jane Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. DuVane Bartlett, 230 South Orange street, became the bride of Jack Paul Ricci of 136 North Grand street, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ricci, Upland, Cal.

Just one year ago, at the same hour and place, the couple met, and the time of the wedding was chosen for this reason.

The bride wore rust satin-back crepe, brown halo hat and brown shoulder-length veil. Her corsage was of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Her maid of honor, Miss Betty Bryant, wore sapphire crepe and a black velvet hat, and carried yellow roses. Ralph Ricci, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Joe Hamann was usher.

Before the ceremony, Miss Helen Mollica sang "Ave Maria," with Weldon Dillingham playing the violin obligato. Mrs. Zola Maag sang "Oh Lord I Am Not Worthy," and a duet was sung by Miss Mollica and Mrs. Maag, "Sweet Savior, Bless Us Ere We Go." Both numbers were accompanied by Miss Beatrice Paine, who also played the wedding marches and "The Rosary" during the ceremony.

A kneeling bench before the center of the altar was flanked by palms and lighted candelabra, while yellow and rust colored chrysanthemums were used in decorating the church. The Rev. Father E. J. Riordan read the nuptial mass.

An informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon for immediate friends and relatives. Following this the couple left for a short trip. The bride graduated from Wilson High, Long Beach, and the bridegroom is a graduate of Chaffey Junior college, and attended Chicago university. They will make their home in Orange.

LEONARD WHITES ARE HOSTS TO MEMBERS OF FULLA FUN CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard White entertained the Fulla Fun club last Saturday evening at a party in their home at Cypress.

William Stanford and Mrs. Ralph Mitchell won prizes for the evening's bridge play. The hosts served a supper afterward.

Others present were Messrs and Mesdames Wilbur Gil, Earl Lepper, Leland Eubanks, Virgil Shidler and R. A. Terrell and Ralph Mitchell and Mrs. Stanford.

luncheon table was laid with old red linens. Antique chinaware, a silver caster and glassware of yesteryear added to the quaintness of the party.

In place of the New England baked bean menu first planned, the hostess served southern fried chicken, hot biscuits and coffee.

Table prizes were given in bridge.

Guests included Mesdames Nell Young, Edna Kenselle, Hotelling, L. Kaseman, E. Swarthout, A. Cain, John Swanner, F. Goepfer, L. Hatcher, Maybelle Farrar, James Allen, E. F. Museus, Tremble and Livesey.

MORE ABOUT HIGH COURAGE

 der and worry in their faces, only Mrs. Harney realizing, in part, what was coming.

Anne told them of Luke Farnsworth's will, and of the small part she played in it.

"I wanted to tell you right away so you wouldn't jeopardize your positions," she said. "It isn't always easy to find employment and I'm sure, as soon as I am away from here, you can get along with the two women."

There was silence for a moment when she concluded, then Buttons spoke. "That wasn't like Luke Farnsworth," he said.

"I'm not his own daughter, Maggie," began Anne, then was surprised to see the big woman heave up from the chair she had taken and, arms akimbo, stride towards her.

"Remember the time," she said at length. "I remember the very time of her learnin'. Sick she was for a while, then she turned to you like she'd smother you with love to make up for the few days she'd neglected you. So that was it."

Anne is to end, tomorrow, by a storm not of her own making.
